Mariota, Titans slip past Panthers for 34-27 preseason win

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Marcus Mariota and the rest of the Titans offense finally got going in the preseason.

With some help from the Panthers.

Mariota threw a touchdown pass and the Titans edged the Panthers 34-27 on Saturday.

The Titans (1-1), who were held to just three points last week against the New York Jets, scored on their first three possessions against Carolina, as they used one long drive and two Panthers turnovers to build a 17-0 lead.

Mariota, who finished 6 of 8 for 61 yards and one touchdown, completed a 20-yard pass to rookie receiver Taywan Taylor and then added a 9-yard run on the first two plays of the game. The Titans had auctioned the first two play calls to a fan for charity.

That drive ended with Ryan Succop's 34-yard field goal, but was just the beginning of the scoring for the Titans in the first quarter.

On the first play from scrimmage for the Panthers (1-1), Derek Anderson, playing for an injured Cam Newton for the second straight week, completed a pass to Devin Funchess, who had the ball knocked loose by cornerback Logan Ryan.

Kevin Byard recovered and returned the ball to the Carolina 13, where the Titans scored on Mariota's 4-yard touchdown pass to Delanie Walker.

"It was a lot better (than last week)," Mariota said. "I thought we came out fast, made a couple of big plays, were able to go down and score. The defense got a huge, huge turnover."

That was the end of the day for Mariota, but not for the Titans.

Tennessee's defense took the ball away again on Carolina's next possession, as Justin Staples intercepted a pass intended for tight end Greg Olsen that rookie linebacker Jayon Brown tipped into the air.

Derrick Henry then took the handoff on the first play from scrimmage and went 17 yards for a touchdown, as Tennessee built a 17-0 lead with 2:02 left in the first quarter.

"It's a great sign. That's what we have to have," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "That's our intent. When you've got a lot of guys around the ball where they're supposed to be, good things happen, and that's exactly what happened."

Panthers coach Ron Rivera lamented his team's mistakes.

Rousey made millions under contract at UFC and can make a bigger splash now working for WWE. Rousey, one of the more celebrated athletes in the world, has kept a low profile since her unbeaten streak came to a thud with two straight losses that put her UFC career in doubt. She's coaching D-list celebrities on "Battle of the Network Stars" and was a guest of WWE executive Triple H at a taping last month of the Mae Young Classic. "Ronda Rousey for me is a WrestleMania attraction," veteran WWE announcer Jim Ross said. "I think she's a big enough star to wrestle perhaps Charlotte, or whomever.

Lions handle Hackenberg, beat Jets 16-6

DETROIT (AP) — Matthew Stafford threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Marvin Jones in the second quarter, and the Detroit Lions shut down Christian Hackenberg and the New York Jets 16-6 in a preseason game Saturday night. After losing defensive lineman Kerry Hyder to an Achilles tendon injury in their preseason opener at Indianapolis, the Lions were still able to pressure Hackenberg early on. The Jets managed only 3 yards of offense in the first quarter and just two first downs in the first half. Jets quarterback Josh McCown sat out this game, but Hackenberg did little to impress in his absence. Hackenberg was 2 of 6 for 14 yards and was sacked twice. “He really didn’t get a chance,” Jets coach Todd Bowles said. “That’s not a fair evaluation of a kid, because he didn’t get a chance on the couple pass plays he had. They had a lot of pressure on him.”

Even after Hackenberg struggled, Bowles wasn’t willing to name McCown his starter for the season opener. He indicated the quarterback competition would continue and that Hackenberg would still be evaluated. “I can’t say when he’ll play, or how he’ll play, but he’ll play and be evaluated again next week,” Bowles said.

Stafford went 8 of 10 for 84 yards. Matt Prater kicked field goals of 37 and 25 yards in the first half, and his 50-yarder with 1:11 left in the fourth quarter put the Lions up 16-6. Detroit’s depth along the defensive front is being tested because of injuries to Hyder and Ziggy Ansah, but the Lions looked fine in this game.

Thompson's 109-yard return highlights Bears' victory

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Mike Glennon was better — not great, but better — in the Chicago Bears' 24-23 preseason victory over the Arizona Cardinals on Saturday night.

Glennon, just 2 for 8 for 20 yards last week in Chicago's preseason opener, played the entire first half in Arizona, completing 13 of 18 passes for 89 yards. "I thought it was a big improvement," Bears coach John Fox said. "I thought the whole offense responded, including Mike." Glennon was picked off by Tyrann Mathieu as the Bears were threatening to score but bounced back to throw his first touchdown pass of the preseason. "The turnover wasn't a good thing but the way we responded was more important," Glennon said. "I thought all our guys responded well, bounced back and got that touchdown drive." Mitchell Trubisky, the Bears' rookie who had an outstanding debut in the preseason opener, played most of the second half. He wasn't quite as spectacular this time but a solid 6 for 8 for 60 yards and a score. He was sacked once and had a would-be interception dropped.

The biggest play of the night came from Deonte Thompson, who returned a missed Arizona field goal 109 yards for a touchdown as the first half ended.

Phil Dawson, who has never kicked one longer than 56 yards in his 18 NFL seasons, attempted a 63-yarder with a second to play in the half and was short and wide right.

"Phil kicks 65-yard field goals every day in practice so why not try one in the game?" Arizona coach Bruce Arians said. "That one's on me."

Thompson fielded the miss a step inside the end line and dodged tackles all the way downfield for the score. "I've never had one returned like that, that I can remember off the top of my head," Dawson said. The Cardinals nearly pulled out the win behind Blaine Gabbert. After Arizona recovered a late onside kick attempt, Gabbert threw a 3-yard touchdown pass to Jeremy Ross with nine seconds to play, but the two-point conversion try fell incomplete. The Bears were up 3-0 and had driven to the Arizona 11 when Mathieu stepped in front of intended receiver Kendall Wright, picked off Glennon's pass and returned it 52 yards to the Chicago 43. "It was just a ball I shouldn't have thrown," Glennon said, "just a bad decision." The Cardinals needed 11 plays to drive for the touchdown. Chris Johnson was stuffed on third-and-goal from the 1 but Arizona went for it on fourth down. Palmer found tight end Jermaine Gresham in the back of the end zone.

Already hyped up for the upcoming AYFS season – a youngster takes a leap at the long jump station of the 3rd Annual Combine last Saturday, under the watchful eye of AYFS Bears Head Coach, Sa Suluai.

Undisputed champ: Crawford stops Indongo in 3rd round

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Terence Crawford took all the drama out of his fight against Julius Indongo, and he did it fast.

Now Crawford is the only undisputed world champion in professional boxing.

Energized by his huge home-state following 45 minutes from his Omaha base, Crawford stopped Julius Indongo in the third round Saturday night to claim all four major belts at 140 pounds.

The fight was the first four-belt unification bout since 2004, when Bernard Hopkins stopped Oscar De La Hoya to claim all the belts in the 160-pound division. Crawford came in with the WBC and WBO belts; Indongo, from Namibia, was the WBA and IBF champion.

“It means everything,” Crawford said. “When you start boxing when you’re 7 years old, that’s your dream to become world champion — and after that you want to become something bigger than world champion. You just don’t stop there. You go to the highest level possible.”

Crawford’s work at 140 pounds probably is finished. A move to 147 looks imminent. Promoter Bob Arum of Top Rank said the plan is for Crawford to go with him to Australia for the expected November rematch between Jeff Horn and Manny Pacquiao. Arum wants Crawford to fight the winner.

“I’m all for it,” Crawford said. The 29-year-old Crawford was as dominant as ever against Indongo, a 34-year-old from Namibia who was fighting in the United States for the first time after making a rapid ascent to champion.

Though Crawford was a heavy favorite, Indongo had height and reach advantages that caused his camp some concern.

But Crawford sent Indongo to the canvas with a right to the body in the last minute of the second round and just missed with a massive left hook before the bell. At that point he was in firm control.

Midway through the third round, Crawford caught Indongo with a left hook to the body that put him down writhing in pain.

“We knew the body was going to be open, being that he swings so wild,” Crawford said. “We felt we could catch him in the middle of his punches. That’s what we worked on in the gym.” Crawford (32-0, 23 knockouts) was in his home state for the fifth time in nine fights but for the first time in Lincoln, 45 minutes from his Omaha base. Indongo (22-1, 11 knockouts) made his rise in his weight division in less than a year after winning bouts in Russia and Scotland.

Crawford entered the ring to roars from the Pinnacle Bank Arena sellout crowd of 12,121 after coming down the steps from the arena concourse. He wore a red No. 140 Nebraska Cornhuskers football jersey, a nod to this city being home to the University of Nebraska.

With fans on their feet and chanting his name, Crawford seized control early. When his final blow took down Indongo, the decibel level increased even more, and Crawford jumped in the air in the middle of the ring in celebration.

Indongo couldn’t get up. “When he hit me, it hurt so bad,” he said. “When he hit me like that, my mind was gone.”

On the undercard, 20-year-old Shakur Stevenson scored a unanimous decision over Argentinian David Paz in a super featherweight bout. Stevenson (3-0, 1 knockout) flashed superior speed and finesse throughout the six rounds and knocked down Paz (4-4-1) late in the fifth.

Stevenson, of Newark, New Jersey, is considered a rising star in the pro ranks after earning a silver medal in the 2016 Olympics.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The American Samoa Environmental Protection Agency (AS-EPA) has developed the AS-EPA Nearshore Marine Water Quality Monitoring Plan that addresses the need to monitor for nonpoint source pollution in American Samoa. A main group of pollutants that cause water quality impairments in American Samoa are pathogen indicators, specifically enterococcus in coastal recreation waters. Two objectives of the AS-EPA Nearshore Marine Water Quality Monitoring Plan are to determine whether nearshore marine water quality meets the American Samoa Water Quality Standards (ASWQS) for enterococcus, and to inform the public when coastal recreation waters do not meet ASWQS for enterococcus, as well as the potential risks associated with the polluted waters.

The AS-EPA has created a file that contains the AS-EPA Nearshore Marine Water Quality Monitoring Plan, a summary of historical bacteriological data of coastal recreation waters, the American Samoa Water Quality standards, and the advisory format used to give notice to the public that the coastal recreation waters are not meeting or are not expected to meet applicable water quality standards for enterococci. These documents are available to the public at the AS-EPA office in Utulei. AS-EPA invites public comments concerning the monitoring and public notification program regarding: (1). The beach evaluation and classification process, including a list of waters to be monitored and beach ranking; (2) the sampling design and monitoring plan, including sampling location and sampling frequency; and (3) the public notification and risk communication plan, including methods to notify the public of a beach advisory. Comments must be submitted in writing within 30 days of the published date of this notice. Submit comments to the AS-EPA office or by mail to AS-EPA Water Program, P.O. 3 Chiefs throw TD passes in 30-12 win over Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rookie Patrick Mahomes threw a pair of touchdown passes, solidifying his spot as the Chiefs’ primary backup, and three Kansas City quarterbacks threw for a score on Saturday night during a 30-12 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals.

Kansas City (1-1) got a lot to like out of its offense overall and its top pick in particular.

Mahomes moved into the role of Alex Smith’s backup a week ago and was smooth against the Bengals (1-1), who chased him from the pocket but couldn’t stop his accurate on-the-move throws. Mahomes, the 10th overall pick from Texas Tech, was 10 of 14 for 88 yards with touchdowns of 1 and 7 yards .

“Of course I always love a touchdown throw,” Mahomes said. “That’s the big thing, getting the ball in the end zone. I just tried to go in there and do what Alex was doing.”

The Chiefs scored on each of their first five possessions for a 30-9 lead. Smith was 8 of 9 for 83 yards with a TD , and Tyler Bray threw an 18-yard touchdown on his first play.

“Patrick had some nice plays, and Tyler had a nice shot right at the beginning,” coach Andy Reid said.

Kansas City piled up 410 yards, including 228 rushing. Charcandrick West ran for 113 yards on only seven carries.

The Bengals had to settle for a pair of field goals during Andy Dalton’s three possessions. He was 7 of 13 for 98 yards with one sack.

“We moved the ball really well,” Dalton said. “We have to make a play when we’re down there.” Cincinnati’s kicking competition remained all even. Randy Bullock and Jake Elliott have made all of their attempts in two games. Bullock connected from 47 and 26 yards on Saturday, while Elliott was good from 32 and 39 yards.

ROOKIE WATCH

Chiefs: Third-round pick Kareem Hunt got a chance to show his versatility in his home state. He was limited to one carry and one catch in the pre-season opener. On Saturday, he was the featured running back on the first two drives. Hunt had 8 carries for 40 yards and 3 catches for 23 yards.

Rookie Conner stars in Steelers' 17-13 win over Falcons

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James Conner overcame Hodgkin's lymphoma and a serious right knee injury to reach the NFL. He showed in his Pittsburgh Steelers debut Sunday that he plans to stick around for a while.

The rookie running back from the University of Pittsburgh broke off runs of 17 and 19 yards, leading to Bart Houston's go-ahead, 6-yard touchdown pass to Justin Hunter in the fourth quarter of Pittsburgh's 17-13 exhibition victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

Conner was greeted with an ovation on the third series of the game when he made his first carry. The third-round pick busted off three other runs longer than 10 yards and had 98 yards rushing on 20 carries.

"With all the runs, I was getting more comfortable," Conner said. "We kept ripping off big ones."

Matt Ryan led the Falcons to a touchdown in his only series and finished 4 of 6 for 57 yards. In two series during the preseason, Ryan, the 2016 NFL's Most Valuable Player and Offensive Player of the Year, has gone 6 of 8 for 88 yards with a touchdown and a 123.6 passer rating.

Pittsburgh receiver Martavis Bryant played his first game more than 18 months.

The NFL suspended Bryant in March 2016 for a second violation of its substance abuse policy.

He also opened the 2015 season with a four-game suspension because of multiple violations of the league's substance abuse policy. Bryant, who is still in the process of being fully reinstated by the league, remains suspended, but is permitted to participate in all preseason activities - including practices and games.

Steelers rookie Josh Dobbs targeted Bryant on the first play of the game, but the offense sputtered with consecutive three-and-outs. Dobbs, a fourth-round pick, was 10 of 19 for 70 yards with an interception.

Bryant, who had two catches for 20 yards, later fumbled an end-around, but made up for it with a 23-yard reception on a drive that ended with a field goal.

Tevin Coleman got the start at running back for the Falcons with Devonta Freeman previously ruled out with a concussion. But the Falcons' primary backfield focus was the competition for the third running back spot.

Terron Ward, who ran for 48 yards against Miami, was strong again Sunday. He finished with nine carries for 37 yards and a touchdown. Ward ran for 151 yards in five games last season.

Fifth-round pick Brian Hill rushed for 14 yards on seven carries. The former Wyoming product player also struggled in the team's first preseason game against Miami, gaining 10 yards on nine carries.

Falcons first-round pick Takkarist McKinley made his NFL debut.

The defensive end had surgery for a torn labrum and fractured right shoulder socket in March and was held out of the preseason opener. The 6-foot-2, 250-pound McKinley had 10 sacks and 18 tackles for loss as a college senior last season at UCLA. He is expected to add punch to a pass rush that features Vic Beasley, who led the league with 15.5 sacks in 2016.

"He hasn't played since November," Falcons coach Dan Quinn said. "For him, it was a long time to get back on the field. We are encouraged by his first time back and I know he was excited to get going."

WIDE OUTS OUT

Pittsburgh's Antonio Brown and Atlanta's Julio Jones, two of the top receivers in the NFL, sat out Sunday.

Steelers coach Mike Tomlin held out Brown for the second straight preseason game. Brown finished second in the league in receptions (106) and touchdowns (12) and fifth with 1,284 yards in 2016.

Jones was held out for the second straight preseason game following offseason foot surgery. Jones, who has reported no problems in his recovery, has been limited in training camp. The two-time All-Pro caught 136 passes in 2015, second-most in NFL history, and finished with 1,409 receiving yards last season.

ALSO MISSING

Freeman (concussion) was previously ruled out in what Quinn described as a precaution. Quinn previously said the injury is not expected to be a long-term issue. Freeman, the league's highest-paid running back, has rushed for 1,000 yards in back-to-back seasons. He caught a 15-yard touchdown pass in the Falcon's first preseason game.

Tomlin held out quarterback Ben Roethlisberger out for the second straight preseason game. Backup Landry Jones also sat out with an abdominal injury.

BIG PLAYS

Pittsburgh's Trey Williams returned a punt 64 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Steelers linebacker Anthony Chickillo had two sacks. Pittsburgh's Jordan Dangerfield picked off two passes, while Quincy Mauger and Akeem King had interceptions for the Falcons.

INJURY REPORT

Steelers nose tackle Javon Hargrave left in the first quarter with a concussion, and linebacker Steven Johnson sustained a hamstring injury.

US beats Europe in Solheim Cup 16 1/2-11 1/2 in Iowa

WEST DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Lexi Thompson set the tone by rallying from four holes down. The rest of the Americans took it from there and restored their dominance in the Solheim Cup

“I was just, like, ‘I just have to go all in and go for it all,’” Thompson said.

Her U.S. teammates followed her lead and the Americans finished off their most-decisive Solheim Cup victory in over 20 years, beating Europe 16 1/2-11 1/2 on Sunday at Des Moines Golf and Country Club.

Cristie Kerr and Paula Creamer won key matches, and Gerina Piller sealed it with a birdie putt that put her 3 up over Florentyna Parker with three to play in a 4-and-2 victory.

“They just bonded. They believed in each other. They played for the person behind them and in front of them. And they played some amazing golf,” said Juli Inkster, who joined Judy Rankin as the only U.S. captains to win the Solheim Cup twice.

The Americans are 10-5 in the biennial tournament after their biggest win since a 17-11 triumph in 1996 in Wales. They rallied to win in Germany in 2015, and have taken five of the last seven matches.

Kerr beat Mel Reid 2 and 1 for her record-extending 21st point in the competition, and Creamer edged Georgia Hall 1 up to raise her total to 19 1/2 — second on the U.S. career list. Thompson ended up halving with Anna Nordqvist, and Angel Yin halved with Karine Icher as the teams split the 12 singles matches. Lizette Salas and Danielle Kang also won for the U.S. Salas edged Jodi Ewart Shadoff 1 up, and Kang beat Emily Pedersen 3 and 1.

For Europe, Catriona Matthew beat Stacy Lewis 1 up, Caroline Masson topped Michelle Wie 4 and 2, Charley Hull edged Brittany Lang 1 up, Carlota Ciganda beat Brittany Lincicome 4 and 3, and Madelene Sagstrom defeated Austin Ernst 3 and 2.

“We just got outplayed, no doubt about it,” European captain Annika Sorenstam said. “I’m just so proud of how hard they fought. What can I say? Just congratulate the USA because they played some awesome golf.”

Her team five points down entering the day, Sorenstam tried to keep the mood light by dressing up in a blue and yellow Viking hat and wig and dancing for the cameras before play began.

Nordqvist did her best to set the tone for the Europeans in the opening match, winning the first four holes. But after a birdie on No. 10, Thompson holed out from 112 yards for eagle on the 11th hole — a shot so impressive that even Nordqvist was compelled to high-five her. The 22-year-old Thompson followed with an eagle putt on the 15th hole, and a birdie on 16 put her ahead for the first time. Though Nordqvist rallied, earning the half-point by sticking her 154-yard approach on No. 18 within a foot, an American win was inevitable after Thompson’s run.

EUGENIA LAST

THE LAST WORD IN ASTROLOGY

Monday, August 21, 2017

Happy Birthday: Take some initiative. Get into the fast lane and position yourself where the action is. Your ability to bring about change and to follow through with your plans will put you light years ahead of anyone who chooses to compete with you. Share your triumphs with the people who love and support you, and be gracious toward those you outmaneuvered. Your numbers are 2, 13, 15, 21, 26, 34, 49.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Make your morning count. High energy coupled with hard work will allow you leisure time at the end of the day. Physical changes will turn out to be costly and unsatisfactory. Don’t rely on others. Learn from past experience

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Idle time will lead to a dispute. Concentrate on what you want to achieve and use your intelligence and ingenuity to help you stay on top of whatever situation you face. Make personal relationships a priority. ****

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Engage in projects that will bring you closer to your partner, children and those you care about. Positive changes at home will encourage you to expand your interests and pursue professional advancement. Set a realistic goal and move forward.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Find contractors or colleagues who can help you make changes at work or at home. Don’t be afraid to do things differently. Use your past experiences and your imagination to come up with a plan that will improve your life.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don’t hold back. Step up your game and play to win. You’ve got all the right moves and the discipline to finish what you start. Taking the initiative to get ahead will lead to bigger and better opportunities. ***

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your imagination will lead to new endeavors. Stay focused on personal changes that will make you more appealing, enterprising or marketable. Set the course you want to pursue and get moving. Trust in yourself, not in what others say or do

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Get ready to make changes to the way you deal with financial, medical or contractual matters. Look at the big picture and aim high. Don’t let indecision cause you to miss out on a chance to get ahead. ****

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Do your own thing. Use your talent to create something that will make you happy or bring you pleasure. Physical changes or researching different lifestyles and beliefs should be a priority. A conscious effort to broaden your outlook is favored. **

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Don’t follow the crowd. Set your own boundaries and goals. Look for an opportunity to travel, gain experience and discover what life has to offer. Take the initiative and turn your dreams into a reality. Discipline and hard work will pay off. *****

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Look over your personal papers or the documents of someone you are taking care of and you will discover something unusual. Follow through and find out your options. A gift, reward or financial gain is heading your way. *****

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Nurture important partnerships. The help you offer others will be reciprocated. Jump into action if you face a challenge and you will make an impression that will lead to a unique opportunity. A change in income looks promising. ***

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): An honest assessment of the way you are doing things will be required if you want to make the best choices and stay on course. Not recognizing your talents and how best to use them will cost you. ***

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

FAMILY WOULD RATHER PUNISH THAN PRAISE RECOVERING ADDICT

DEAR ABBY: I am a recovering drug addict. I have slipped, as many do, but I have been clean for four years now. The problem is my family. If I look tired, trip over my own two feet (I’m clumsy) or just don’t want to be around people, I get questioned, yelled at, accused, etc.

Abby, they do random drug screens at my job. I have passed every one, and I have made amends for my past wrongdoings. But the last time I was accused, after trying to express my feelings calmly, I exploded and vented my frustration. Now my family won’t have anything to do with me.

Truth be told, since the breakup, I have experienced a boost in self-esteem, but I miss them. I have apologized, but they still won’t talk to me.

How many times must I swallow their accusations? They say I’m in the wrong. Is it wrong that I’ve had enough? Should I keep apologizing or leave it be? Shouldn’t they be proud that I’ve stayed clean? Please help. -- FED UP IN TEXAS

DEAR FED UP: They should be, but apparently they aren’t and haven’t trusted your sobriety, which is why they couldn’t let your period of addiction go. Because you have apologized and your apologies haven’t been accepted, it is time to look forward, form new relationships and move on. I think that would be a healthier path to take than continuing to beg forgiveness from relatives who are unwilling to give it and would rather punish you. Don’t you?

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who laughs after everything she says (it doesn’t matter the topic). She stayed at my house for four nights and it drove me insane. I figured I could put up with it for four days, which I did, but it wasn’t easy. I didn’t say anything at the time for fear of hurting her feelings and/or possibly ruining her short vacation.

In addition, our main form of communication is texting (which she does often), and I swear she can put five or six LOLs in every text. I know she thinks she’s funny, but she doesn’t have to tell me with every sentence. This may seem like a petty thing to gripe about, but it is very irritating. (By the way, she’s NOT funny.) Thoughts, Abby? -- SOURPUSS IN NEW JERSEY

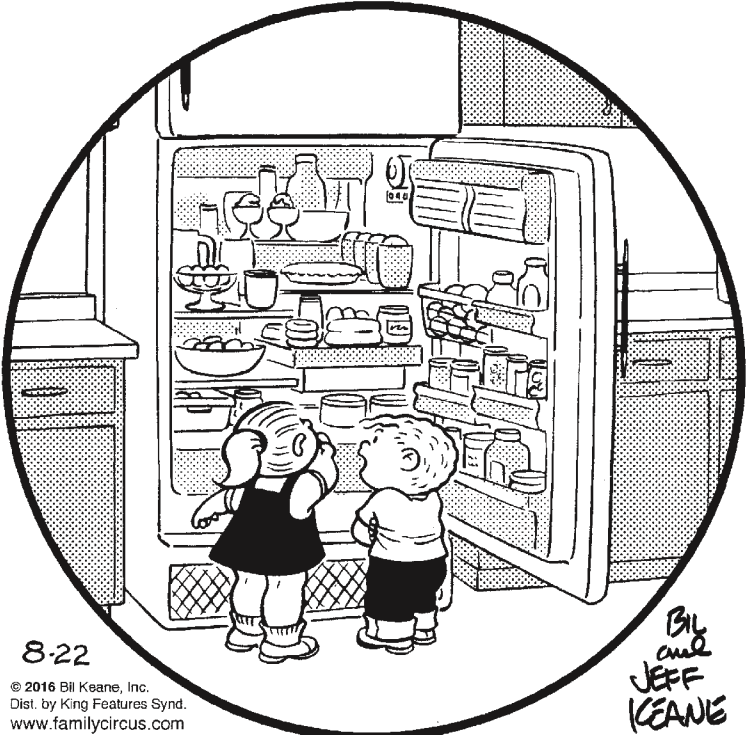

DEAR SOURPUSS: Your sister’s laughter may be more a nervous habit than an attempt at humor, so I’m glad you held your tongue. However, if all those LOLs in her texts are a distraction, you’re perfectly within your rights to tell her so, and it shouldn’t cause hurt feelings.

DEAR ABBY: I don’t understand the new trend of asking wedding attendees to pay for the honeymoon. I’m especially put off by a couple entering second marriages for both of them. “Dick” and “Jane” are both established in well-paying careers. They are not only asking people to pay for their airfare, but also to donate cash for shopping sprees. This seems presumptuous to me. What do you think? -- INSULTED NON-ATTENDEE
